▶ THE KOREAN WAR IN THE EYES OF THE CHINESE

By Luo Xuepeng

A documentary writing on the Korean War, which is based on multiple disclosed Soviet archives (including the telegraphs and conference records between Stalin, Mao Zedong and Kim Il Sung prior to and after the outbreak of the war), this book unveils the origin of the Korean issue and recaptures the ins and outs of the important decisions concerning that war, which were made by the relevant state leaders in the cause of their respective national interest. And through the interviews with many war witnesses, it also re-presents the cruelty of the war and the gargantuan harm it has inflicted. With objective and riveting details, and in the perspective of the Chinese, this book provides another unique interpretation of the Korean War, whose aftermath shaped the world history.

真相：永不褪色的国家记忆

▶ TRUTH: THE UNFADING NATIONAL MEMORIES

By Gong Guowei

In the late 1931, the Lytton Commission headed by Victor Bulwer-Lytton of Great Britain was entrusted by the League of Nations in an attempt to investigate the September 18 Incident (a.k.a. Mukden Incident) which led to the Japanese seizure of Manchuria. Due to the close surveillance of the Japanese, the people of the Northeast China were not able to contact this investigation team. Nevertheless, a group of Chinese people known as “Nine Men of Shenyang” risked their lives and collected a large number of materials that proved the Japanese invasion, which were submitted to the investigation team and provided an important basis for the confirmation of Japanese aggression by the League of Nations.

Rich in content, these materials include two parts: instructions and compilation of evidence, providing facts and evidence of the September 18 Incident and the Japanese violation of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Northeast China, which are fully and faithfully presented in this book. These detailed and systematic evidences truly record the news reports as well as the orders and notices given from the Kwantung Army, and present large number of witnesses and photos, which reveal the deception of Japan to the world.

The “Nine Men”, most of whom had received education overseas, had a strong sense of jurisprudence and adapted strategic approach in collecting the evidence, whose legal judgments were accepted by the League of Nations, helping win the recognition and sympathy & support from the international community.

This book translates, produces and publishes the photocopying materials taken from the UN Headquarters Library in Geneva, which are useful for the related researches. Also included in this book are the reminiscences of the relevant persons and academic study of the contemporary scholars concerning this matter, which are dedicated to the brave act in the cause of truth and justice.

侵华日军第六师团南京战役及暴行实录

► BATTLES AND ATROCITIES OF THE 6TH DIVISION OF THE JAPANESE IMPERIAL ARMY IN NANJING

By Yang Zhenyu & Wu Jing'ang

This book re-presents the part of history when the 6th Division of the Imperial Japanese Army, which was known as the prime culprit of Nanjing Massacre, landed Hangzhou Bay and participated in the massacre shortly after, and discusses the distortion and denial of the massacre by Kumamoto City, the place where the 6th Division was originally formed, 30 years after the defeat of Japan.

This book makes extensive reference to the original Japanese war reports, telegraph texts and those inside historical materials of the 6th Division that are rarely seen, and describes in details the fierce and tragic battles that are little known. It aims to bring to life the truths about the Nanjing Massacre that are still being denied brazenly by the Japanese Right-Wing forces to this day.

► HUANGDI NEIJING (INNER CANON OF THE YELLOW EMPEROR)

Compiled by Ni Taiyi

Huangdi Neijing, literally the Inner Canon of the Yellow Emperor, is an ancient Chinese medical text that has been treated as the fundamental doctrinal source for Chinese medicine for more than two millennia. The work is composed of two texts, each with eighty-one chapters or treatises in a question-and-answer format between the mythical Yellow Emperor and six of his equally legendary ministers. The first text, the Suwen (a.k.a. Basic Questions), covers the theoretical foundation of Chinese Medicine and its diagnostic methods; the second and generally less referred-to text, the Lingshu (Spiritual Pivot), discusses acupuncture therapy in great detail.

A vernacular interpretation with over 200 illustrations, this book tries to represent this classic in a way that is easy to understand, and help grasp the quintessence of the traditional Chinese medicine.

► STANDARDS AND MODELS FOR ARCHITECTURES

Original work by Li Jie, annotated & compiled by Fang Muyu

Yingzao Fashi (literally Standards and Models for Architectures) is a technical treatise on architecture and craftsmanship written by the Chinese author Li Jie (1065–1110), the Directorate of Buildings and Construction during the mid Song dynasty of China. It is China's oldest and most richly illustrated treatise on the architecture of state-owned buildings. It specifies in its main body the units of measurement, design standards and construction principles with structural patterns and building elements illustrated in drawings; furthermore, it elaborates on standard estimates for labour works, documents material data, and lists recipes for decorative painting and coatings, etc. It embodies the greatest achievements of Chinese architecture in its day.

Based on the complete collection of Yingzao Fashi, this book adds over 1,000 drawings that displays the structures, decorations and component patterns of various buildings in detail, and explains the practices in construction and their principles. It summarizes the management experience and achievements in the design and construction of many traditional Chinese architectures, and serves as a reference book for both aesthetics and techniques.

► SOMETHING ABOUT FASHION

By Zhang Miao

Shirts were originally worn by the European aristocrats as the underwear when they went to bed; the laces, now flooding the market, were only used by the noble in their collar decoration before the industrial revolution; the French Revolution not only resulted in the collapse of monarchy in France, but also led to the popularity of the tights that had been once the favorites of noble men, equally with both genders; women's wedding dresses were actually colorful prior to the Victorian Era; those who first wore the high heels were ancient Greek butcher who tried to avoid the splash of blood on their feet...T-shirts, jeans, little black dresses and many other types of clothing do have interesting history!

This is a book on the evolution of fashion, which narrates the origins, anecdotes, changes as well as the distinctive traits of the fashionable clothing and accessories that are carefully chosen, with each entry representing as a classic. Exquisitely illustrated and based on reliable historical materials, this book will guide readers through an exciting world of fashion.

失控的皇权：打天下与坐天下的朱元璋

▶ IMPERIAL POWER OUT OF CONTROL: ZHU YUANZHANG IN HIS CONQUEST AND GOVERNANCE

By Zhang Hongjie

The founding of the Ming dynasty is considered to be an important turning point in China's historical and cultural development. Under the rule of Zhu Yuanzhang, the founding emperor of the Ming dynasty, the course of history greatly deviated from the previous trajectory set up since the Tang and the Song dynasties, and autocracy and violence had become common, leaving a profound impact on the formation of Chinese national traits.

The rule of Zhu Yuanzhang successfully combined the political cruelty and moral fanaticism. On the one hand, with the establishment of Jinyiwei (Embroidered Uniform Guard), an imperial secret police system and the implementation of even more sophisticated Lijia System (a basic-level organization system), the people were essentially put in shackles and strictly confined; and also with a series of political purges that eliminate the potential threats, Zhu implemented forced migration of people to exploit the vast areas with sparse population, and intervened in the freedom of the people's occupational choice. On the other hand, Zhu, as an emperor who was able to refrain from sensual pleasures, developed tireless pursuit for moral purity and showed little tolerance for corruption, aiming to create a prosperous age of his own. In a bid to construct a "Peasant Utopia", Zhu Yuanzhang had instead led China to a development course that was opposite to that of the world's mainstream civilizations, missing an era of progress.

This is a book that provides a unique understanding of Zhu Yuanzhang, an important emperor that had far-reaching impact on Chinese history.

五代门

► GATE TO THE FIVE DYNASTIES

By Liu Jianchun

Five Dynasties, is a period of time between the fall of the Tang dynasty (907AD) and the founding of the Song dynasty (960AD) in Chinese history, when five would-be dynasties followed one another in quick succession to control the old imperial heartland in northern China. In this brief era of political disunity and upheaval that followed the demise of the once-prosperous Tang dynasty, the economic and cultural centers gradually moved from north to south, the Sixteen Prefectures of Yan & Yun that stood as a natural barrier to defend the north were ceded by the powers from further north, and the legendary imperial jade seal was lost...

This book tries to recapture the captivating stories of that part of history, and discusses the reasons why the Tang dynasty came to an end, the process of cession of the Sixteen Prefectures and the shift of economic and cultural centers. A popular reader that is rigorous in presenting the facts and fascinating in words, this book provides systematic and panoramic review of the Five Dynasties to help readers understand this important transitional period in Chinese history.

► EXPRESS CHINA

By Zhu Xiaojun & Yang Liping

Rights Sold: Nepal, India, Japan, Arabian region

This book outlines the development of the most prominent privately-owned express companies in China, and tries to uncover how they expanded rapidly to become "the First Echelon of Express Delivery Service" in China.

A few years ago, many peasants walked out of the remote rural areas, and engaged themselves into various undertakings in cities, including the service of express delivery. With diligence, arduousness, perseverance and wisdom, some of them set up express companies, which gradually stepped onto the right business trajectory and achieved scales. This process witnessed the rise of the four dominant privately owned express companies, namely, Shentong, Yuantong, Zhongtong and Yunda, which left behind commercial legends of the 21st century. By recapturing the dramatic development of these express companies, this book exhibits and interprets the dreams and glories of the peasants of the new generation in China, who have transformed the life of Chinese people today by introducing the new mode of Internet + express delivery.

The authors interviewed the founders of the four dominant privately-owned express companies as well as their employees of different levels, and have spent two years to render the valuable and touching reading to readers.

► VENTURE TO THE WEST

By Chen Jian

A re-creation with the historical context and figures on which Journey to the West, one of the Four Great Chinese Classical Novels, is based, this series of suspense novels transform the 81 ordeals preordained in the magical world created by Wu Cheng'en into 81 cases the protagonists venture into, which are set in the historical scene, presenting imaginative and captivating stories unfolding on the way to the west.

大唐泥犁狱

► THE NIRAYA OF THE TANG EMPIRE

In the third year of the Zhengguan era, the Tang dynasty, Xuanzang arrives at Huoyi in search of his missing brother before he sets out for the Western Regions. Coincidentally, Li Shimin, the emperor at the time has his royal progress at Huoyi as well. Horribly, however, Li is said to be sued by his brother, who has been killed during the Xuanwu Gate Incident, in the hell, and is hunted by the legendary hell emissaries during his visit. Therefore, the Niraya (the Hell) is gradually brought to the mortal world there.

The Niraya, which turns out to be viciously but vividly constructed by men, is a trap set against Li Shimin. From the above said incident to the mass killing and expansion of the empire, the ambition of the emperor can hardly be constrained. When the evil of the common people can be suppressed by the imperial powers, how can the emperor be deterred from his willful act?

Xuanzang is forced to be engaged in protecting the emperor as well as investigating this Niraya. What will he find out?

西域列王记

► THE KINGS OF THE WESTERN REGIONS

In the winter of the third year of the Zhenguan era, a thin horse carrying a monk stumbles at the edge of desert. Xuanzang eventually arrives in the Western Region, where turbulence is seen. The giant Persian Empire faces invasion from both the Byzantine Empire and the Western Turks, and its land is also coveted by several other states in the Western Regions. To reverse the unfavorable situation, the Persians try to seek military assistance from the Tang Empire by presenting their most valuable treasure.

At the starting point of the Silk Road, Xuanzang accepts Qu Zhisheng, the prince of Gaochang (the source of Zhu Bajie in Journey to the West), as his second disciple. Falling in fervent love with the princess of the enemy state, Qu insanely steals the valuable treasure of the Persians and tries to present it to his beloved.

Xuanzang's arrival to the Western Region makes him part of the tactics of the Tang Empire to influence this region, which Xuanzang is unaware of. Robbery, killing, revenge and treason—various cases ensue and entangle with one another, with forces from the Tang, the Turks, Persia, Yanqi and Gaochang are involved. A conspiracy to change the situation of the Western Regions and to control the Silk Road gradually emerges...

大唐梵天记

► THE BRAHMA OF THE TANG EMPIRE

In the 15th year of the Zhenguan era, Wang Xuance, an envoy of the Tang Empire, crosses the Flowing Sand River and heads towards India, becoming the third disciple of Xuanzang, which is known as the "Friar Sand". Xuanzang, who has been learning and practicing Buddhism for 12 years in India and made a name there, then faces an unprecedented conspiracy.

A great debate on sutra is being held between Persia and India, during which some 3000 Buddhist participants and tens of thousands of audience may challenge Xuanzang. What is behind this seemingly ordinary convention is a huge crisis, which may lead to the demise of Xuanzang and fierce battles in the Western Regions if not handled properly.

As an adroit tactician, Wang Xuance helps Xuanzang garner the support from the Tang Empire and brings changes to the political patterns of the Eurasia. All of a sudden, assassinations, abduction and espionage come one after another, in which Wang and Xuanzang are deeply involved...

三国终结者司马昭

▶ SIMA ZHAO: THE TERMINATOR OF THE THREE KINGDOMS

By Li Haobai

Sima Zhao (211–265), courtesy name Zishang, was a military general, politician and regent of the state of Cao Wei during the Three Kingdoms period of Chinese history.

Through constant struggle, Sima Zhao obtained power step by step, and became the de facto controller of Wei. He took advantage of weakness in Shu Han to the west and attacked it, forcing its surrender. His military credit helped to set up the plot of overthrowing Wei by his son, Sima Yan, who usurped the Wei throne and proclaimed the Jin dynasty. After the establishment of Jin, Sima Yan posthumously honored his father as Emperor Wen of Jin.

Based on the history concerning this legendary figure in China, this series of novels recaptures the rise of the Sima Family and the unique wisdom of their success. Intriguing and thought-provoking, this series brings readers close to that ever-changing history in the post-Three Kingdoms era.

► BANK SCAM: FATAL DEPOSIT

By Bian Jiang

A huge amount of money goes missing in a bank. With the suicide of Ling Han, a bank employee, by overdosing on sleeping pills, this case is contentiously closed.

A year later, Jiang Yuan joins the bank as a new employee, and starts tracking down the missing deposits and investigating the issues concerning the forging of signature seals, property crisis and others on his own, which leads to the fall of people that have been involved. Jiang Yuan is in effect the former boyfriend of Ling Han, whom he believes to have been set up by someone else and treated as the scapegoat for the case a year ago. To restore her innocence, he is ready to give up everything and fight against all odds to look into the case with superb financial expertise.

But as he delves deeper into this case, Jiang Yuan finds that this seemingly simple case of deposit loss not only involves the senior leadership within the bank, but also inextricably links with other listed companies. When he thinks he is holding the key evidence, his unknown opponent begins to emerge from the darkness...

Lost deposits, shrinking assets, mortgage crisis, forged signature seals... This is a thrilling suspense novel set in the banking industry.

▶ SPIRIT MESSAGE

By Zhang Ying

The future of Dong Fei (the protagonist) always exists and influences her past through high-dimensional space; and the portrait image (known as the Spirit Message) appears in the Global High-Energy Physics Laboratory is also a signal to the world, which is sent by Dong Fei (from the future) through a window from the folded high-dimensional space. The past and future are no longer in a normal cause & effect relationship, they are simply inter-dependent. Just like the famous Wheeler's delayed choice experiment, many results seem to have been doomed before it happens...

All things happen when Dong Fei returns to campus to have further education, but only finds herself trapped in a nightmare. Gaia is a global terrorist organization that advocates extreme environmentalism and maintains that earthlings who are not environmentalists cannot share with them the valuable resources on earth; therefore, its members plan to destroy the existing civilization. Gaia believes that the Spirit Message, like the portrait image sent from the "High-Dimensional Space Intelligence", is Dong Fei's key to access that space, and desires to control and harness this key.

A Spirit Message research team, consisting of elite experts from various fields, endeavors to foil the terrorism plan of Gaia, but this team itself has been penetrated by Gaia.

Who is the "High-Dimensional Space Intelligence" and what is the true mission of the Spirit Message? As the key to all these, Dong Fei eventually stands out from her troubled life and steps on the journey to save the whole world.

谁念西风独自凉

▶ A COLLECTION OF NALAN'S CI POETRY

By Zhang Man

Nalan Xingde (1655–1685) was a Qing dynasty Chinese poet, famous for his ci poetry (a type of lyric poetry in the tradition of Classical Chinese poetry). Though born with silver spoon in his mouth in a powerful family, and enjoying the supernormal background that paved the way for his political career, Nalan was tired of all these, and did not value the material comforts. Born with great talent in literature, which was his favorite, Nalan enjoyed a high literary reputation with his poems that displayed his tenderness in various subjects and the pains he suffered from the death of his wife. His ci poetry was studied extensively and remains as fondness for people of all times. By collecting the most representative poems of Nalan, this book guides readers in the exploration of the fascination in them, re-experiencing the exquisite themes of his time.

▶ THE DUST-LADEN LINES OF THE TANG POEMS

By Jianghu Night-Rains

Quan Tangshi (Complete Tang Poems), commissioned in 1705 at the direction and published under the name of Kangxi Emperor of the Qing dynasty, is the largest collection of Tang poetry, containing some 49,000 lyric poems by more than twenty-two hundred poets.

Having passionately immersed in Quan Tangshi for many years, the author of this book found that many anthologies based on this treasure house of poetry had dropped some of the splendid poems mostly due to their utilitarian purposes, leaving regrettably the pearls sleeping in the sand. To reverse this, the author carefully selects those poems of Quan Tangshi, which are rarely known, and tries to bring them under the spotlight they deserve. And by relating the life experiences of the poets, the social background, the artistic conceptions and the possible reasons for being neglected, this book presents readers with the true beauty of the Tang poems that has never been enjoyed.

▶ PRAYER FLAGS

By Xu Jian

This book is a collection of essays written by Xu Jian, an award-winning writer who has been to Tibet for 18 times as of the year 2018 and profoundly immersed in the stunning cultural and historical charm of Tibet. It narrates the rich and riveting stories about this snowy wonderland, which are incorporated seamlessly into the author's account of the unforgettable experiences of his own in this sacred region.

In the part "Spiritual Mountain", this book presents the story of the Belgian–French orientalist and sinologist Alexandra David-Néel who ventured deep into Tibet to find the mysterious Shambhala Kingdom; then in the part "Spiritual Land", the author recalls the experience of Liu Manqing, a special envoy of the Republic of China who traveled long distance to Tibet from Qiangtang, and her efforts in maintaining the unity of the country and the harmonious co-existence of different ethnic groups on behalf of the central government; and recollected in "Spiritual Lake" is the rise and fall of the Reting Rinpoche as the regent.

The combination of the personal experience of the author and the related historical stories will unfold a dimensional landscape of the Tibetan society across a century.

By Fan Xiaochun

When R received a parcel, she knew that W was dead. It is common that what is learned and actually happens may mostly be misplaced, but this time it is the death of W. Many years ago, W told R that he had no idea to whom he could hand over the negative films of his photographs taken over the years when he left this world. He could at least trust R. He had once said that after his death, the executor of his will would send out these films, which were to be received by R on the other side of the world. When R really did and opened the wrapped box, she found no films but 24 letters that had been written on over 100 cards. What described in these letters were 24 concepts concerning his memories, hopes, confusion and delusions, and the things he could never achieve but only could realize in his mind.

Jamais Vu is a fictional collection of writings by Fan Xiaochun, whose perspectives are divided into a narrator and a hidden listener (but ultimately all contributed to the author's own narrative). The two protagonists try to see the world and present the landscape of it—in terms of the self and others under the order—through the scenes related to photography, painting, architecture, and literature.

世界上美味的事太多

► SO MANY DELICIOUS THINGS IN THE WORLD

By Zhang Jiawei

This book is the latest essay collection of Zhang Jiawei, a popular Chinese writer living in France, about the tasty food, tourist destinations, anecdotes of utensils and the local customs of the places he has been to. In 2012, Zhang Jiawei and his girlfriend started their study in France, and in the following six years, they have traveled all over Europe and Asia, including France, Germany, Spain, Portugal, Italy, the Netherlands, Japan and many others. He would visit the old shops hidden in a corner of a city because of his fervor in a certain kind of food. He would also go and explore for himself the secret of a certain legend he had read about. He puts down every beautiful thing he has encountered in his trips, and presents them in this fascinating and eye-opening book. "Perhaps living the life of my own is just like this," he said in his book, "and freedom is not perfect, nor can it fully feed me; however, it makes everything possible."

By Yang Changyi

Consisting of three interlinking sections, this book includes more than fifty essays which, as a whole, furnish a vivid, appealing picture of the author's "slow travel" experiences in Thailand, Sri Lanka and India, which, rather enviably, get rid of the common restrictions for travelers in terms of time and climate as well as the unpleasantly tight itineraries imposed by travel agencies when one travels with a tourist group. Continuing writing in the impressive full-of-stimulating-nonsense style which is featured in his previous works, the author in this book describes the things and the people he came across during the journey from a unique angle, which enables the audience to get unconventional insights into the different cities in the three countries and also the people living in these places. In this book, you may see lust and desire in the red light district of Bangkok, innocence and kindness on an old-fashioned train in Sri Lanka, as well as love and death in an ancient town of India.... Hope these interesting stories can inspire you to set forth on your own spiritual journey!

► LIBIDO

By Yang Changyi

Libido, a psychological term, refers to the feelings of all parts of the body, and is associated with thought and instinct. It is believed in the psychoanalysis that libido, a type of instinct, stands as power and a driving force for various psychological phenomena. This title discusses in depth, with concise words and fine illustrations, movies, daily life, arts, human nature, fashion and emotions in terms of libido.

Yang Changyi, a writer and traveler, has toured US, Japan, Denmark, Spain, Turkey, India, Iceland, and has authored Banana Philosophy, The Taste of Cherry, Rhino, the bestsellers that depict his distinctive way of life. In this book, with unique attitude and poetic images, the author presents new reflections of young people today.

► LOBSTER PARTY

By Yang Changyi

A cocktail of the most representative paintings and texts of Yang Changyi, better known for its nickname as “the Bad Taste of Airplane”, from 2015 to 2018, this book re-collects the pop culture, fashion styles and imaginations of our times, exhibiting the “bad tastes” of the author with daring & rich colors and unique styles.

This book is divided into four parts. Bad Taste Gallery (A Collection of Paintings) includes the chapters of LOLITA, PUNK, BLUE VELVET and LOBSTER PARTY, displaying the process of ripeness from a maid to a woman. Bad Poetry (A Book of Text), subdivided into the chapters of Poetry, Movie and Whisper, collects the essays of the author regarding the relevant fields in recent years. Paper (A Fashion Note) is regarded as a “Bad Tastes Daily” with no fixed date of issue, with each featuring a theme that covers art, design, fashion, travel, home, films and books—the main theme for this issue is Clothing. Mask (The Mask of a Woman with “Bad Tastes”).

▶ VALIANT GODDESS OF WAR (2 VOLUMES)

By Fawn of the Snow Mountain

People in the Star Continent worship fighting capability, believing that the strength can help in the conquest of the world.

Yue Siqing, a daughter of the chief of the Yue Clan, one of the four major families in Kalie State, is banished by her folks because she was born with zero magical power and regarded as useless. She is actually the reincarnation of a girl who lived on other continent and bore the same name; also reincarnated in the Star Continent are her subordinates of the previous life. Yue Siqing manages to acquire a preliminary magical power when the seals that trap her soul in the process of her reincarnation start to fall off, and is ready to obtain more through practice. At the tender age of nine, she goes to the Royal Academy of Kalie State, where she makes many friends, including one of the reincarnated subordinates. When the Yue Clan is in trouble, she comes to its aid despite the previous misfortune, and learns that it was the scheme of her uncle that drove away her mother and herself and ousted her father who disappeared afterwards. With hard struggle, she defeats her uncle and his followers, and takes back the chief position, restoring the fame of the clan under her leadership. But later she learns that each of the four major families possesses the fragment of a map, which has something to do with the nine-color magic beads that appear at the Royal Academy. Feeling that her trapped soul is connected with those magic beads, she decides to get all the map fragments and further collects the beads on the Star Continent. Then more secrets and an exciting adventure continue to unfold...

This is a fantasy novel that narrates the story of a girl who becomes a valiant goddess of war from a useless nobody.

Yun Ziluo, a seemingly weak yet thoroughly accomplished girl, is an inconspicuous child in her family who has long been ignored by her father, a general of the Qixia state, due to the humble origin of her mother who serves as a concubine to her father. On her wedding day, this unlucky girl is put to crying shame by her fiancé, the Fourth Prince of Qixia, who mercilessly throws her out of his house and marries someone else. Feeling unbearably betrayed and humiliated, Ziluo sadly ends her life by smashing her head violently against the wall. Fate, however, is kind to her this time. Her body is taken over by the soul of a female killer also named Ziluo who comes from modern times to this ancient state through a bizarre space-time travel and, much to the astonishment of everyone, she becomes alive again. Resurrected with a different soul in her body, Ziluo makes up her mind to lead a brand new life without being affected by the past. Drawing on her outstanding intelligence and martial skills, she not only successfully takes her revenge on her ex-fiancé, but also wins the affection of the Eighth Prince of Qixia, a gentle, refined and romantic man, as well as the love of the Prince Regent, a hard, decisive and intelligent political leader in the state. Under the calmness and peace of the imperial court, a ruthless fight for the throne is unfolding. Being caught in a deadly whirlpool of conspiracies, what will Ziluo and the people around her do in this power struggle? Who will be her final choice, the Eighth Prince or the Prince Regent?

Mingyue, the daughter of a humble concubine in the Nangong family, is a plain-looking girl who is dismissed by others as an imbecile for being dull, silly and incapable of everything. Despite this, she still receives special favor from her father Nangong Zhe, the master of the most influential family in the Beigong Empire. Mingyue has been affianced to Yuxuan, the Crown Prince of Beigong, since childhood, but her notorious reputation arouses nothing but his strong dislike for her. More pitifully, this poor girl, hoaxed into coming to the dangerous royal stables by her malevolent sisters who feel bitterly envious of her, gets tragically trampled to death by runaway horses. However, when regaining consciousness from a long, deep coma, she is no longer the pathetic idiot who has to endure others' taunts and humiliations meekly. With her body occupied and controlled by the soul of a brilliant female surgeon from modern times who has a first name similar to hers, Mingyue decides to make full use of her second life to make a difference to her fate. Relying on her courage and resourcefulness, she not only manages to smash all the treacherous schemes against her, but also gains the affections of a few outstanding men, namely, her fiancé Yuxuan, the distinguished Crown Prince of Beigong, Prince Li, the present Beigong emperor's youngest brother who is worshiped as the guardian of the dynasty for his matchless military genius, Dulan khan, the supreme ruler of Tujue who is known for his sanguinariness and belligerence, her foster brother Nangong Bai, the master of Rosefinch Palace which is a mysterious but very powerful force in martial arts circles, and so on. What will happen to Mingyue and these men? Will she find her Mr. Right in the end?

▶ THE CAVE

By Nick Lau

Both left orphaned by the Japanese air-raids, Haoyu and Yun are adopted and try hard to survive the horror of the war. One day, when they take shelter in a secluded cave in a forest during another wave of bombing, the two boys are trapped inside and forced to find a way out. However, they discover that this cave is an access to the Otherworld, a bizarre world that has been affected by the war in the true world. Guided by a strange old man in the cave, they set out on an adventurous journey to find the four virtues of the Tree of Life growing in the Otherworld so as to get back to the true world of their own. The two boys, assisted by the friends they make on the way, brave their fate...

Set against the backdrop of the bombing of Chongqing during WWII, this colorfully illustrated title provides a depiction of the war from another angle by conceiving the experience of the kids in the Otherworld and combining the local features of Chongqing, and tries to convey to readers that resilience, brevity and perseverance can help people go through all the darkness and suffering. It does not try to extend hatred, but by remembering the pains in the past, remind people of the preciousness of peace we are enjoying today.

猴子的玉米汁

Monkey's Corn Juice

By Liu Zhutong

A monkey wants to drink corn juice. But it has no corn. So it asks a leopard, a dog, a fox and a rooster to lend it some corn. After its desire is satisfied, the monkey, unwilling to return the corn, plays a string of tricks which lead to a train of tragedies: the rooster is eaten by the fox, the fox by the dog, and the dog by the leopard. The monkey also comes to a bad end: it is eaten by the leopard. Well-structured and nicely-paced, this story teaches children a profound lesson on the importance of honesty.

石兽

Stone Beast

By Liu Zhutong

Once upon a time, there is a stone beast which can tell whether people are telling lies or not: men putting their hands into the stone beast's mouth, the beast would bite their hands if they are telling lies but would do no harm to their hands if they are telling the truth. A greedy man who has betrayed his friend attempts to play tricks on the stone beast to avert punishment. However, he is seen through and gets severely punished. Well-plotted and beautifully illustrated, this story teaches children the importance of honesty and loyalty.
